

Tranquil Life Server

What is Tranquil Life Server (TLS) ?

The TLS facility is the Fort Knox of data backup, for your absolute peace of mind.

Your Home Server already provides excellent PC backup, Data Duplication and Server Backup functions. This means you can rest easy when it comes to the data integrity of your Home or Small Office PCs.

However, there is always the lingering question, what if there was a fire, a theft, or other serious loss of the server itself ? This may be very unlikely, but it's not impossible.

The costs of off-site data backup services, previously set up for larger corporations and banks, are now becoming affordable. But there are serious questions to be answered before committing your data to these servers ? 1) Is the data server to be TRUSTED, ie where is it, who owns it – are they to be trusted ? 2) In the event that you do have a problem, with the loss of data and your Home Server, would you be able to wait for days or weeks whilst it is downloaded?

TLS sets out to answer these questions :

TLS runs on multiple servers owned, managed, housed by Tranquil PC Ltd, your TRUSTED supplier of the world's first and finest Home Servers. These servers are then mirrored across multiple Tranquil sites via dedicated high speed optical links.

TLS also provides the option to not only recover your backup data on line or by Tranquil to a suitable HDD delivered to you for fast recovery on your site, but also offers to quickly supply a NEW Home Server, including the recovered data. To ensure your personal or small office data is quickly available again.

This exclusive service is unlikely to be copied by any other provider.

If you would like to participate on the modelling of this service, please take just a few minutes to make a few selections from the questionnaire.

As a small thank you, well not really so small, Tranquil will randomly draw a respondents name before the end of December 2008 – this winner will receive a gorgeous AVA RS3 Music Server, valued at over £650.00

The AVA RS3 Music Server

TLS is planned to launch during Q1 2009

The service will be available to all Home Server owners.
